FESTY ANTENNA — Erected at 666 Skyline drive by neighbors Frank Shuman and Jack Parris for their civil defense radio equipment drew comment from city building department. City inspectors said the antenna is too high for city height limits. (Photo by Joseph's)

Radiomen erect 'troublesome tower'

Two Daly City amateur radio operators may be obliged to remove a 55-foot transmitter tower because of a height limit.

Co-owner radio operators Jack Parris and Frank Schuman erected a 55-foot tower between their houses on Skyline drive.

A Daly City assistant electrical inspector complained. No electrical permit was issued to erect the tower.

Parris told Daly City inspectors that radio transmission is not electrical and wouldn't come under the jurisdiction of the electrical inspection department.

Daly City building inspector George Hopman inspected the structure. He said that although the structure appears to be structurally sound it is over the maximum height limit of 30 feet and therefore must be dismantled.

Parris and Schuman said the tower is safe, and that they sunk seven tons of cement in the ground for anchorage. The tower is supported by heavy gauge stainless steel wire. It is 55 feet high, to keep away from static interference from the PG&E power poles.

The building department said the tower is too high and must be removed.

The radio men said their transmitter was an affiliated part of the civil defense network.

They said amateur radio stations provide a valuable part in times of natural or man-made disasters.

They said they plan to protest the decision of the building department to the city council.

A Westlake park shelter will be constructed about April, 1964.

Sprinkler system for M. Pauline Brown school is slated for April.

Construction for a tot lot in Southern Hills and Westlake Park will begin in February.

Construction will start in March for a 12-inch water line to tie into Southern Hills.

School research

Survey on smoking

The Jefferson Elementary School District will conduct a three-year research program on the smoking habits of youngsters beginning next year.

The study is planned to determine the effect of heart education on the smoking of early adolescents.

The project is the first of its kind in the United States and is expected to set a pattern for similar programs in other states, according to officials of the California Heart Association and the American Heart Association, sponsors of the study.

"This is the first factual, scientific approach to the effect of an educational program on the smoking habits of the pre- and early-adolescent in this country," says D. Douglas Waterstreet, assistant director of the California Heart Association in charge of their education division.

"This study is not intended to be coercive," explains Waterstreet.

"Rather, its purpose is to determine whether an intensive explanation of the harmful effects of tobacco is—or is not—a deterrant to the use of tobacco among young people," he says.

AHA Stand

The American Heart Association and its affiliated chapters (the California Heart Association and the San Mateo County Heart Association here) has taken the position that there is good reason to believe excessive smoking is harmful to the heart and the circulatory system.

It thinks the general public should be made aware of this.

The AHA explained its stand in a resolution passed last June:

"Although the statistical association between heavy cigarette smoking and increased mortality and morbidity from coronary heart disease does not prove casual relationship, the board believes there is sufficient evidence of the harmful effects of cigarette smoking to warrant the American Heart Association and its affiliated chapters joining with other health agencies in educational programs to discourage cigarette smoking by the general public with especial emphasis on teenagers and persons who have high blood pressure, elevated blood chloresterol, signs of arterio sclerosis, or a family history of heart attacks or stroke."

Designed by Foster

The Jefferson Elementary School District Study has been designed by Richard L. Foster, superintendent of the school district and a member of the American Heart Association Committee on School Health and Health Careers.

It has the endorsement of the American Heart Association, the California Heart Association and the San Mateo County Heart Association.

The need for the study was first suggested by members of the AHA Education Committee who asked Foster to develop the project.

Foster will present his plan for formal approval at a meeting of the AHA Education Committee in New York Dec. 9.

It was presented to the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees Nov. 4.

At that time, the board moved to accept an AHA grant of $1,000 a year for the life of the study (three years) to finance the project's consultation fees and other expenses.

Procedure

Foster's study will compare the smoking habits of a group of four classes of seventh and eighth grade pupils given special courses on the heart and circulatory system with another group of four classes receiving the regular health curriculum.

By a state law, facts about smoking, alcohol and narcotics and their effect on the body are taught in the regular health classes.

The eight classes will be made up of students from different social and economic areas chosen during their sixth year of school.

The groups will be matched as closely as possible on similar family backgrounds, intelligence, teachers and the smoking habits of their parents.

During their seventh and eighth grade careers, a follow-up study will be made to compare the students' smoking habits during the onset of early adolescence.

Questionaires will be used to gather information.

Beach erosion survey for Pacifica, Daly City

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has announced that he has secured an appropriation of $109,000 for an Army Engineer's Survey of the beach erosion problem Pacifica and Daly City.

As soon as funds are available, the Corps of Engineers will be able to start the survey which is expected to take at least a year to complete.

Following the survey, the engineers will recommend a method correcting the problem which is creating a critically dangerous situation at Thornton Beach, Daly City; the Esplanade, Pacifica; and on the shoreline of El Granada.

In Daly City, sections of the old coast highway on Thornton Beach have crumpled and fallen into the ocean. Erosion had cut into sections of the beach fronting the parking lot at Thornton Beach Park.

Homeowners in the 500 Block of Pacific Manor's Esplanade drive in Pacifica have agreed to carry out a program to halt erosion of the cliff under their homes. The owners planned to form a special assessment district to build a breakwater, rather than wait five years for the Corps of Engineers to complete their studies.

Congressman Younger told Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City the erosion study will begin as soon as the Congress completes their Public Works appropriation for fiscal '64.

Castelan is MAPA head

Julius F. Castelan, one-time city engineer of Daly City, and Democratic party worker, has been elected state president of the Mexican-American Political Association of California.

He was elected at the fourth annual convention Sunday in Los Angeles.

Some 200 delegates and 600 members of MAPA attended.

Parade ends fund drive in 'Heights'

Plenty of celebrities were on hand Sunday Nov. 10 in a motorcade through Westlake and St. Francis Heights to salute the Mary's Help Hospital wind-up of the fund drive.

Featured in this parade were nurses in full uniform, supported by government, sports, and entertainment figures. The parade, with marching bands, followed the route from Christopher Columbus School at St. Francis boulevard and Christopher court, northerly to St. Francis boulevard to Eastmoor, westerly on Eastmoor to Southgate and southerly on Southgate to the campaign headquarters.

A group of 200 local men and women visited each home in the St. Francis Heights and Westlake Knolls area to pick up pledge cards.

Volunteers were feted to a champagne reception at the headquarters following the drive.

HAPPY BARBECUE DAYS AHEAD — It may be winter right now, but many happy outdoor barbecue days are ahead for Mrs. Gladys Zebrowski of Daly City. She has just presented her lucky free drawing ticket to, left, Gene Perry, advertising and promotion director of Doelger Developments. Her ticket won Mrs. Zebrowski a beautiful $150 barbecue set at last Friday night's mammoth Skyline Plaza Shopping Center's free giveaway program at which 14 wristwatches, the barbecue set and a 1964 Ford Falcon were given shoppers. A throng of more than 5,000 filled the Skyline Center. Buck L. Hamon, extreme right, served as master-of-ceremonies.

INDOOR PLANTING — Doelger Corp. gardener Jack Gerber both and one of the examples of indoor shrubbery which decorate the indoor patios of Westlake apartments.

Trees are a luxury

By JACK WOOD

Trees in Daly City are a luxury.

Due to the crowded areas of many parts of Daly City, only some areas have enough space for planting.

The weather compounds the problem.

Park Supt. August Conci claims Daly City is the most critical area in California for trees and shrubs.

"No one can poinpoint what particular tree can be planted in any given area.

One street can be completely different from the other because of wind from the ocean.

"There may be a big difference within a radius of one block.

"The soil in the subdivisions has been removed leaving the sub-grade with only helpless clay . . . without food value."

A Palm for Every Home

However, in subdivisions of Daly City there is a tree (usually a palm tree) for every home.

They are getting bigger and better looking every year.

The original intent of the Doelger Association, Westlake Developer, was to plant deciduous trees.

Some were planted at first in the older sections of Westlake. But, on the windy side of the streets, the plants would die. On the sunny side they thrive.

On the sheltered blocks of Westlake, such as Hawthorne, Belmont and Lake Forest, plum trees have been planted.

Ecualyptus trees are planted along Forest Grove.

In Westlake, technically the trees are the property of the homeowner; however, the right of removel, replacement, substitution or maintenance is reserved for the Westlake Homeowners Improvement Association.

Most prolific tree in Daly City is the Dracena palm, a sturdy plant that withstands any amount of salt air wind blowing from the Pacific.

Many property owners are not pleased with palms. But deciduous trees often cannot stand the weather.

Henry Doelger's gardeners planted palms on most lawns of Westlake and Westlake Estates, and landscaped the interior of Westlake apartments with attractive plants.

Acacia trees and palms are planted in the yards of St. Francis Heights and Standard building company has planted trees on the front of homes on Southern Hills subdivisions.

The Prolific Palm

A row of palms grace Mission street from Market to San Jose. These plants will blossom forth into leafy plants within the next year or two, according to Parks Supt. Conci.

Planting Research

The Daly City parks department has made an extensive research for the past 10 years on soils, insecticides, fungusides and fertilizers.

To find out what plants do better in one area of Daly City or another, the parks department has planted "pilot" trees and shrubs in given areas.

After several years of research the department knows which plants or trees will grow in specific areas.

Best method for planting trees in Daly City, according to Conci, is as follows.

Drill a hole two feet deep and two feet wide. Add two cubic feet of cow manure, two pounds of iron sulphate and sandy loam. Water well before planting so the chemical will not burn the tree—leave for 10 days, then plant. If the trees are assisted in this way in the planting stage, the roots will find their way down.

A signal honor has come to the Daly City Community chorus sponsored by the recreation department. They will give a special Christmas choral presentation over KPIX three days before Christmas on Dec. 22 at 1:30 in the afternoon. The program presented by the station's Public Affairs Department in cooperation with the city of Daly City will be one of the highlights of the Christmas television season.

Elaborate plans for the program include special Christmas backgrounds and stage settings.

Among the choral numbers by the popular local singing group will be "At Christmas Time" from the "Song of Norway" and "Winter Wonderland."

The Belle-Tones will be featured in two selections "Silver Bells" and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer." Patti Stoltz will sing a solo number, "Christmas Song" while decorating the Christmas tree.

Narrating the show will be Don Brice of KPIX's news department. Daly City's Recreation Director, Charles Vincent, will serve as coordinator for the program.

Executive producer of the special Christmas show will be Caryl Coleman, KPIX Public Affairs Director. Mr. Coleman is one of the most distinguished television producers in the San Francisco Bay Area.

He produced the outstanding television series "Success Story" which won so many awards both locally and nationally. Among the more recent award-winning series with which he has been associated is the memorable "San Francisco Pageant" series which received this year's Peabody award, one of television's top awards. He wrote the script for the program based on the life of Jack London titled "A House Is Burning."

Colma 'spooks' stage parade

On Thursday afternoon, October 31st, the students at Colma K-6 School took part in a Hallowe'en parade. All 475 students in Grades Kindergarten—4 participated in this gay event as a few hundred parents viewed the spectacle.

The long procession of goblins, ghosts, devils and other such colorful characters wound its way around the school grounds led by Mrs. C. Klaisner.

Mrs. Klaisner, a first grade teacher at Colma K-6 School, was dressed very effectively as a witch.

She wore a long black dress, black high-button shoes, a tall black pointed witch's hat, and a string gray wig. Tucked under one arm was a little black and orange kitten; she also carried her broomstick and a mysterious "steaming" kettle.

Woman feted for 25 years federal service

Mrs. Ethel M. Parker, 355 Park Plaza Drive, Apt. 101, Daly City, was feted by fellow employees at a coffee-and-cake party this week at Oakland Army Terminal when she retired after 25 years of Federal Civil Service.

She came to Oakland in 1946 and her last assignment was Supervisory Transportation Assistant in the Terminal Cargo Division.

Col. Harry C. Olson, head of the Operations Division, presented Mrs. Parker with a letter of commendation.

She started her career with the Federal Works Progress Administration at San Francisco in 1938, then went to Fort Mason with the Port Quartermaster in 1941. This was followed by work with the Port Transportation office until she went to Oakland.

Asked what she plans to do, she said that she is going to travel for awhile.

COW PALACE VISIT—Daniel Webster's kindergarten pupils taught by Mrs. Eloise Heidland went to the Grand National Livestock Exposition on Oct. 29. Harold Randall, official photographer at the Cow Palace, was on hand to photograph his son Thomas (front row, right) and his classmates as they started the tour. Fortunately the steer is a taxidermist's model. The children saw the riding horses with their trophies and ribbons and the many breeds of cows, pigs and sheep. They were delighted with the 1½-day-old Guernsey calf and Goliath, the world's biggest Holstein steer which wighs 2,650 pounds. Smells and sounds were particularly noted. The children watched the grooming some black angus steers and discovered that hair spray was used. They learned how pigs were moved along from one pen to another and how the animals were judged. Many of the youngsters viewed live farm animals for the first time. (Hal Randall Photo.)

Pack 369 has pumpkin contest

The meeting of Pack 369 held Nov. 4, at Abraham Lincoln School had a fantastic assortment of spooks, goblins, and people from the past and future in attendance.

All cubs came in costumes, and brought pumpkins they had decorated. Craig Casburn won first prize for his costume of a knight dressed in shining armor. Peter Deacon won first prize for his very whimsical pumpkin. Den Four won a special prize because the entire den came dressed as little angels.

One year pins were awarded to Bobby Alden, Tom Furrer, Richard Saxton, George Petru; Dennis Cauterucis, one year pin and gold arrow; Bruce Van Vych, one year pin and two silver arrows; Steve Muhenkamp, one year pin and silver and gold arrow; Jim Hamilton, one year pin and denner stripe; Michael Butterworth, one year pin and asst. denner stripe; Daniel Wilson, lion; Peter Deacon, lion and webelo patch; John Parras, webelo patch and gold arrow; Steve Broune, gold and silver arrow; Joey Stavish, silver arrow; Steve Kennedy, bobcat.

Atomic reactors future source of electricity

"Fossil fuels will be used up within 200 years and man must find other sources of power" Lloyd Ghiselli, PG&E manager of San Bruno told members of the Daly City-Colma Lions club last Wednesday.

The obvious source of power is from atomic fuel for which there is an unlimited supply, he said, and PG&E and other power companies are now building reactors all over the country.

"Unfortunately, too many people 'see' only a mushroom cloud when the word 'atomic reactor' is used," he continued. "Actually it is so safe that Consolidated Edison is building a plant in Queens in New York

Ghiselli pointed out that an atomic reactor is a source of heat to make steam to run a conventional electric power plant. "It's much like a steam ship which has a recirculating supply of pure water which is made into steam, turns the turbines, then is condensed by an outside supply of sea water."

County talks set on population explosion

Some 150 to 200 city and county officials are expected to attend the all-day Symposium next Monday at the Hilton Inn to discuss mutual problems.

Members of city councils, commissioner and other public officials and civic leaders will hear keynoters and panel discussions on the most important problems brought about by the huge population explosion.

"Phantom Cities of California" may or may not be an exaggerated report but it has gained widespread publicity as a blast at all local governmental agencies. San Mateo County officials set up the Symposium to show that cooperative effort can and will do the job of planning and progressive development for the residents of today and the future.

Most of the keynoters, headed by State Senators Randolph Collier and Richard J. Dolwig, are recognized authorities on their subjects. The moderators and panel members, for the most part, are city and county officials, with several well-known civic leaders joining in.

Will San Mateo County's some 2200 employees have their health insurance premiums paid entirely by the county? The decision may be reached soon, County Manager E. R. Stallings told the board of supervisors last week. The county now pays approximately half the cost.

Frank Gillis, representative of Local 829 of the Employees Union urged the board to take such a step immediately. He pointed out that 91% of all employees in the Bay Area are fully covered by employer-paid health plans. He said government generally had fallen far behind in this field. South San Francisco is the only public agency in the county who has assumed this responsibility.

The County Employees Association has made similar requests to the county manager and board of supervisors.

Manager Stallings told the board his taff is now working on a new insurance plan and he would have it ready for study by the supervisors within the next week or two.

The board of supervisors has asked the governor to place two important county issues on the agenda for the special session of the state legislature next spring. Bills calling for two more superior court judges and to establish a county rapid transit district were approved by the legislature earlier this year but vetoed by the governor. County officials hope to get the matters on the agenda and on the governor's desk again during the special session.

Board Notes: A resolution was passed supporting the City of Pacifica's recommendation for Route I of Route 229 from Sweeney Ridge to the Coastside . . . Notice of Intention is being published to purchase two large lots owned by Southern Pacific across from the county fair grounds in San Mateo. They will be used to increase the parking facilities . . . Redwood City is the first city to file its list of qualified streets with County Engineer Don S. Wilson. Each city must file its report to qualify certain thoroughfares that tie in with county or state laterals to be eligible for funds from the new one-cent gasoline tax.

The board has denied a permit for Congregation B'Nai Israel to build on a substandard lot near Daly City. County ordinances require churches to have 20,000 square feet of land and the site in question is only 15,000 square feet. The board has turned down several similar requests in recent months . . . Crocker Land Company and the Jefferson School District have filed grant easements with the county engineer covering rights of way for the 92nd Street Extension in the north county area. This paves the way for the contractor to get the project under way.

WHEN ONE PLUS ONE DOES NOT EQUAL TWO
In mathematics the addition of one and one will always equal two. But in pharmacy this is not true all the time. Every medicine has its own particular use but sometimes two medicines working in combination will produce a third different result.
There are many such medicines and we are familiar with all their functions. When a physician gives you two prescriptions in treating a condition, this combined result could be what he is striving for. Always have every prescription you are given filled without delay and take as directed.
YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. We deliver promptly to Daly City, Westlake and St. Francis Heights without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Westlake SHOPPING CENTER Proudly Presents THE NEW '64

New Volkswagens at Westlake Auto Show

Shunning the annual model changes which afflict the new car market, 1964 Volkswagens on display this week at the Westlake Auto Show look exactly like last year's, and the year before that. But don't let the absence of a "new look" fool you; the betterment is inside and underneath.

This was pointed out today by Howard Duval at Daly City Volkswagen, as a string of sleek new Volkswagens, Kombi's, Campers and station wagons were installed on the Westlake Mall.

"The VW's look just like the ones we have been selling for years," Duvall said. "But this year we have a number of real improvements. As a matter of fact, over the past few years, Volkswagen has made more than 3,000 changes in making a better running and more convenient car—but not one for yearly "model" change.

External appearances of the VW sedan model for '64 has not been altered, Duvall said. However, four new colors of the highly popular, dependable and economical car will be seen this year. Panama beige, Java green, Bahama blue and a different sea blue have been made available in addition to the standard black, pearl white, antracite and ruby red so commonly seen.

Inside improvements are: Vinyl leatherette upholstery which is porous, enabling air to circulate freely and does away with the so-called hot seat; the horn is operated by a thumb bar instead of a ring; the sun roof model has a sliding metal roof which makes the "fresh air" Volkswagen theftproof and it's operated by a hand crank which makes it a snap to open or close while driving. The handle folds safely away into its own pocket.

The Karman Ghia, the sleek sport-like model of the Volkswagen family has recessed inside door handles, similar to those seen on much more expensive cars.

Hardly noticeable as an exterior change, the 1964 VW station wagons and trucks have a rear door 13 inches wider than formerly. The new door width makes for easier, faster loading and is spring-supported. It opens from the inside or outside by pushing a button. In Station Wagon and Kombi models the rear window is twice as large for better visibility. New vinyl headliners, permitting quick and thorough cleaning, replace the soft felt-like material in the popular Volkswagen busses.

"It's really hard for many people to believe," Duval declared today, "but Volkswagen is now the third largest selling automobile in the world today."

Much of the success of VW has been built on low initial cost, high economy of operation, and the fact that service and parts are available literally everywhere, according to Duvall.

"Porsche also shuns model changes," he added. "But not significant engineering advances." New 1964 Porsches have race-tested disc brakes, the first to meet the high Porsche standards. "Now you get a more powerful engine, and even better performance than before."

SKYLINE VIEW of the new 1964 Volkswagen, displayed this week at the Westlake Auto Show along with new model campers, station wagons and commercial models. New look on VW is confined to four new colors; all improvements being "inside and underneath" as in previous years. Both VW and Porsche shun yearly model changes, says Daly City Volkswagen, local distributors, who are showing the whole line on the mall.

NO STAIN

A good thing to remember is that you don't have to stain your patio deck boards. If you use either western red cedar or Douglas fir you will find that they will weather in a year to a soft, silvery grey. If you stain, you merely ask for a maintenance problem.

A new grille of horizontal design extending the full width between headlights is a prominent styling feature of the 1964 Valiant. Shown here is the Signet V-200, a sporty two-door hardtop, one of nine models in five body styles available in the 1964 line. New features, available for the first time in the Valiant line, include a floor-mounted four-speed manual transmission, Sure-Grip differential to minimize rear wheel spinning on slippery surfaces, and a push button, electric windshield washer. There are improvements in both Valiant engines, the 101-horsepower standard engine and the 145-horsepower optional power plant, to provide simplified maintenance and maximum starting reliability. Students learn of braceros

by MICKI COLBY

WHS California History students Guillermo Aguilar and John Richardson recently added to their study of Latin America by visiting Mexican bracero laborers in Hayward.

They went with Edwardo Lopez, an instructor in engineering in Heald's College and a leader in the Spanish-speaking community in San Francisco.

Mingling among the workers, John and Guillermo learned that some wait for as long as two or three years for the chance to come to the United States.

They wanted an opportunity to earn more for their labor as harvesters and extra field hands than on their meager farms in Mexico.

This entailed the sacrifice of leaving their families and living in a strange land with unfamiliar customs, language, and social practices.

Talking to the men in Spanish, the Westmoor students learned that the Braceros receive from $20-$30 a week plus food and clothing, and must pay $1.90 a day for their living quarters.

The remainder is usually sent home to the waiting family in Mexico.

John and Guillermo, under the direction of WHS history teacher Evans Miaonchi, plan to investigate other topics pertaining to Latin America, such as the Rumsford Bill, and State Department decisions and actions concerning Latin America.

What Every Woman Should Know About Her Automobile

By WENDY WHEELER
Auto-Torium Feminine Driving Consultant

"Flat Tires at Night"

Have you ever had a flat? No, not a cake or a pop-over, but a flat tire—and at night? I really did'nt know why the car was behaving so peculiarly. It just seemed sloppy and wouldn't hold the road coming up White's Hill in Marin County. Finally I came to a turnout and stopped to take a look. The right rear tire was as flat as my spirits at the moment.

I could hear my husband's comments now—starting with, "Anyone who can't even tell when they have a flat tire shouldn't be driving," and on, and on, in that vein.

After looking very seriously at the jack and assorted tools, I'm ashamed to admit I didn't have the slightest idea of where to begin. Fortunately a truck loaded with garden furniture stopped and the driver came to my rescue.

Juan, the driver, who manufactured and sold the furniture, took over completely and certainly had a lot of advice for me.

He said that the first thing I did was right, even though I hadn't realized it. Keep driving on a flat until you can get off the road or well over to the right. You've probably ruined the tire by the time you realize it's flat, so keep going until you can get out of the lane.

Juan also suggested edging the doors, especially the left hand door, with Scotchlite reflective trim, so there's no danger of someone driving into your open door in the dark. This reflective trim is available at all Auto-torium stores.

Of course I'd lighted flares immediately. Inidentally, have you ever thought of carrying your flares inside the car, rather than in the trunk. It seems to me that they are handier inside and also if you are rear-ended your trunk might just be jammed. Juan carried a battery operated lantern with a red flashing light which I thought was a good deal easier to operate than flares.

Finally, he was through, and suggested that in the future I carry one of the new pressurized tire inflators that are now on the market.

After all Juan's kindness when he asked if I would be interested in buying some of his garden furniture — what could I do? I now own the ugliest garden chair extant but feel it was well worth the price.

Free copies of Wendy Wheeler's informative and entertaining booklet, "What Every Woman Should Know . . . About Her Car," may be obtained at any Auto-torium store or by writing her in care of this newspaper.

WHY COME TO AN AUTO SHOW TO SEE THIS CAR

When actually you can see the same car in our showroom at any time. (We've had the '64 on display for almost 2 months now.) There are several advantages:

1) You can compare the VW with cars of other shapes, sizes—and costs.
2) It's a relaxed atmosphere—sort of like a VW. You don't have to know a torsion bar from synchro mesh transmission—although the VW has both.
3) You can check over the changes made in past years—more than 3,000. We'll bet you'll have to ask what they are since we don't change VW's simply for change, only to make it work better.

Come to the Show this week and look closely at our VW's. You'll see why they are the most popular of all imported cars.

Public building boom

Californians have grown accustomed to rapid growth, with new buildings, even communities seeming to spring up overnight. But we think that the public building boom that the North Peninsula is experiencing right now is worthy of comment. Just a few of current or coming projects are:

A new civic center for Daly City is finally underway now that the City Council has selected a site between 90th and 91st streets. This central location is also near the site of the new Daly City postoffice.

The Mary's Help Hospital which is under construction is the largest single project in the area, and the success of a drive for funds may make it one of the largest and best for any community the size of Daly City. Of course, it will serve all the North Peninsula.

Pacifica has just dedicated a new postoffice, much needed in that growing community.

An announcement has been made that a mental health service will be established the first of the year in the North County, probably in Daly City. While this may not mean a new public building, it offers one more reason why San Mateo County should join with Daly City in creating a City-County building at the new civic center site.

Not the least of the expansion is in the school districts which are already making plans for five elementary schools and one high school to serve the growth that will come with the development of the Christen Ranch annexation. This of course, combined with the new schools that will be built to serve new developments already underway.

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

It has just arrived, Dr. Frank M. Stanger's "South from San Francisco."

Replete with pictures, it tells the story of San Mateo County from the day its discoverer called it a land of beautiful plains until today when it has become a place of proliferating cities.

All of the chapters reveal points of history that are significant yet not generally known. I was surprise to learn from chapter five that San Mateo as a separate county was the brain child of "San Francisco roughs" who were anxious to escape justice.

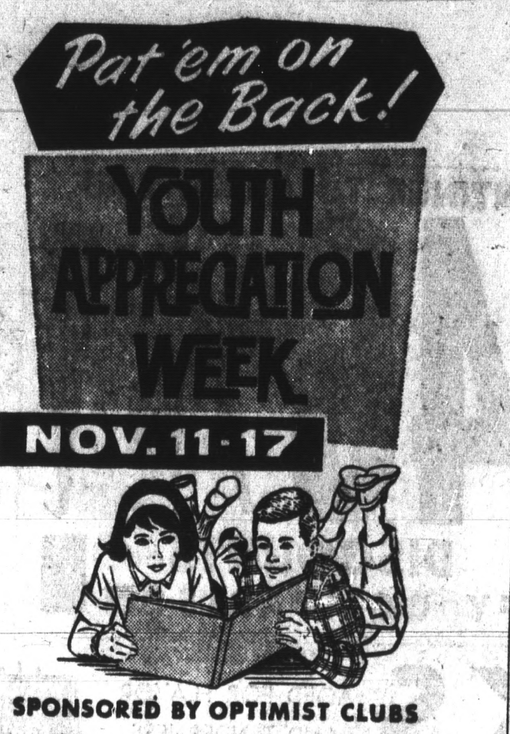
I was happy to learn that the leaders of the gangs were forced to leave the country before they could enjoy the results of the most crooked election in the county's history, the first.

Chapter nine "Good neighbors: or are we?" outlines the various plans that have been presented to create a Greater San Francisco by consolidating San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

It also tells of the many ways that San Mateo County and San Francisco have cooperated and are cooperating as equal partners in providing services for the citizens of both jurisdictions.

The author of "South from San Francisco," Dr. Frank M. Stanger, is executive secretary of the San Mateo Historical Museum and San Mateo County Historian. He writes history in a style that makes his works as readable as fiction. His wise comments explain the events being narrated and the backgrounds which created them.

Surely this is an important book and should be recommended for wide circulation.



The View From Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

A person called Henry Alexander recently wrote a story for one of the Sunday sections of the San Francisco Chronicle. He wrote about an organization called Youth for Service, and the director of same, one Orville Luster.

Mr. Alexander got to tour the city with Mr. Luster, he said: he got to visit the toughest juvenile delinquents of all. He was sagely advisedl to wear a rumpled shirt and glasses for this tour—because he was a caucasian, and might be mistaken for a cop.

Percy Pinkney was there, too. He was described as a former gang member, short, lithe, animated, and very sharp. Big, cigar smoking Luster, with partner Pinkney and observer Alexander went on patrol on the night the article described.

They patroled San Francisco, the Mission, and Ocean View, and Hunter's Point. For awhile it was quiet and they were disappointed. Then, at a recreation hall, they found a group of fifteen to eighteen year olds.

Mr. Luster was acquainted with these, and spoke to each one. He handed out cards for those who wanted to go to work. The man whom they were directed to see had the title of Sergeant.

"But he ain't no cop," Mr. Luster is quoted as saying. Thus, he reassured the youths!

Mr. Alexander then got to ride in the speeding station-wagon that Mr. Luster was driving. This happened after they learned of a rumble about to take place, and, like the important people they were, they raced to stop the rumble.

And, do you know what? Stop it they did!

Well, it was a stirring story. Mr. Alexander wrote, we think, in an attempt at objectivity. And Mr. Luster operated, as always with a sense of destiny. And Mr. Pinkney operated, we suppose, with the knowledge gaines as a gang member and veteran of like-type rumbles.

And in the aggregate, it all sounds like a worn out script from the happily defunct dead-end kids—before they became comedians.

We do not agree that it is the citizen's duty to patrol the streets—for he is as near to the police as he is to his telephone.

We do not agree that any citizen has to speed his auto through the streets for anything less than a medical emergency—and even then, excess speed is likely to hinder more than to help.

We do not agree that anyone should be pointed out as a "cop" (so called) just because he is a caucasion or wearing pressed clothing—or that there should be any gratuitous animosity if that person is a policeman.

While no policeman who is thin skinned to insults and barbs lasts very long we do not agree that the "cop" (again, so called) should necessarily be disparaged against or about.

And, while gang instinct is natural among people, especially children and adolescents, we do not agree that they should be given status out of proportion to their worth to the community. We content that this type of action, that of extra-legal effort to stop an illegal "rumble" is wrong. What if, for example, the rumble had not been stopped—would any citizen have come forth and allow that he knew of the situation and did not report it?

The shoe is on the wrong foot here, people. It is true that no group should be harassed—and it is true also that no group should be wooed or protected outside of the law or outside of the code of well conducted people.

Better Business Bureau

'Bait and switch' ads are misleading

By Lorne Beasley
Editor of the Better Business Bureau "Barometer" monthly publication for Bureau members

Look out for "bait and switch" advertising, where you're offered an attractive item that the seller has no intention of letting you buy.

The salesman accomplishes the "switch" by "knocking" the advertised product by saying, "The advertised article has been already sold out in a pre-sale," "It won't work," or, "I just happen to have another, better make in the car."

An example of a "bait" ad is when an ad offers a well-known brand of merchandise at a ridiculously low price, giving what appears to be a private address or the telephone number of a private address or the telephone number of a private individual. It is usually the address and telephone number of a salesman for the seller. When the buyer becomes very interested and nibbles at the "bait," the salesman withdraws the "bait" and brings out what appears to be a much more attractive piece of merchandise. If the salesman is "supercharged," he will successfully switch the buyer to the more expensive deal.

Another example of "bait" advertising is to advertise a real bargain on a new piece of merchandise. The ad does not give the manufacturer's name, model number, but the buyer assumes it is the latest model of a nationally known brand. He dashes to the department of the advertised article to be told that the stock has been completely sold out because of the big demand.

However, he is told, there is sufficient stock in a deluxe model at a slightly higher price.

"Bait and switch" advertising and selling are in violation of Section 17,500 of the Business and Professional Code. There should be sufficient stock on hand in the stores to take care of advertised items; otherwise "bait advertising" is suspected.

In the case of the advertisement offering a well-known article for sale and giving what appeors to be a private address or telephone number, the ad should show the dealer's name unless it is a bonafide individual private party. Beware of any deal where your name and address is taken and you are called back by the salesman.

Sometimes the words "take over payments" or "repossessed" are used to imply that a private party is in distress. If "repossessed" is used or implied, the seller should be able to prove that it is a legal repossession and not a used machine or trade-in that is being sold. Insist upon this proof. If it is a "take over payment" deal, check over the defaulted contract to see what and how many payments you are taking over.

Sociologist says:

Lovers' quarrels are trouble signs

Take with a grain of salt the old saying that "the course of true love never did run smooth."

"If a love affair isn't running smoothly it's one of the most serious danger signals in a relationship," says Dr. Judson T. Landis, professor of family sociology on the Berkeley campus of the University of California and co-author of "Building a Successful Marriage."

"Continuous disagreement between associates in business and other life situations is usually recognized by the parties concerned as a sign that a relationship isn't workable.

But when it comes to a love affair, the romantic illusion often misleads young people completely. They tend to ignore the implications of their 'lovers' quarrels' and dwell upon the pleasure of making up afterwards. Their quarreling, however, should tell them that there's something wrong in the relationship."

In most marriages that fail, especially those that fall early, there were danger signals which, if recognized by the couple during dating and courtship, would have warned them against trying to form a permanent relationship with each other, says the UC sociologist.

Dr. Landis will discuss some of these danger signals and tell how to interpret them during an interview with the University Explorer Sunday over the CBS radio network.

Entitled "Danger Signals," the program will be heard at 9:15 a.m. on KCBS, San Francisco.

Dave Mahoney failed to break through the Warrior line for the point after TD.

The Rams copied their first quarter action, again midway in the second period, when a Hix pass to Mallinger in the South San Francisco end zone gave the Westmoor group the edge.

Mahoney was again stopped from making the PAT through the Warrior line.

Then It Was SSF

South San Francisco came back to challenge shortly after the Westmoor TD and held a brief 13-12 lead when Cervelli carried the ball across after a 12-yard romp.

Sam Pretari's kick for the PAT was good.

Rams Lead at Half

It was Hix again who put the Rams into the lead with seconds remaining in the first half.

A four-yard jaunt around left end did the trick for the Westmoor score.

Mahoney went over for the PAT.

The score: 19-13.

Seesaw

Then it was the Warriors.

A six point recovery by South San Francisco with less than two minutes remaining in the third segment tied the score 19-19.

Gregg Jones put the ball across the Rams goal line with a five yard run.

The Pretari kick was off.

The Important Fourth

Westmoor failed to score in the third quarter.

They did score in the fourth —the important fourth.

South San Francisco did not.

Westmoor won.

In spite of a strong defense by the South San Francisco squad, Westmoor managed the score in the fourth quarter that won the game.

The 8-yard Hix pass to Bill Price in the Warrior end zone, less than a third of the way through the final period, put the Rams out in front.

The Ram defense was strong enough to hold the Warriors back for the rest of the game.

Tempers flared more than once and players and referees intervened on at least two occasions to break up heated exchanges.

But, the game ended; and Westmoor was comfortably ahead.

Westmoor runners league champions

Westmoor's hustling varsity harriers ran their way to a championship Thursday by placing second to Terra Nova in the league final meet.

The meet held at Westmoor hosted Oceana, South City, Terra Nova, El Camino, and Jefferson.

The day was a particularly joyous one for the harriers and their coach, as the hill men took three of the four crowns in the event.

The Rams "brought home the bacon" in varsity, soph and frosh competition.

Ram varsity men were handicapped by three top men, Dennis Tracy, Milo Torres, and Bob Beukers suffering from colds.

Prieto of Jefferson and Skrifvars of Oceana placed first and second respectively.

Chris Bravos of Westmoor snagged the third position with teammate Dennis Tracy close behind in the fifth spot.

Milo Torres placed ninth, followed by Ed Raymond and Bob Arriola in the 14 and 17 positions.

Coach George Simon said he was pleased with the team considering the handicap.

The Ram cross - country squad ran all out from the first meet in which they tied. Lowell after only four days of practice.

This was the first cross-country championship since 1958 for the Westmoor men.

Frosh-Soph

Ram Sophs looked good as they placed first by beating Terra Nova by a slight 45-48 margin.

The sops have a perfect 6-0 record and another championship.

Herb Decker placed second to Rogers of Terra Nova. Paul Brown took ninth with Hoffman, Simonovich, and Palmer placing tenth, eleventh, and thirteenth.

Frosh runners' 6-0 perfect season awarded them a championship.

Ram men Molina, Slocum, Warmoth, and Bundros put in impressive races by placing first, second, third, and fourth.

Morris completed the scoring by taking the sixth position.

Ram J. V. runners placed low in the league because of a lack of depth. Juniors Bob Teuscher and Stan Nelson ran good races and took second and fifth places respectively.

Oceana in first NPL victory

The Oceana Sharks took their first league game Friday and broke the barrier of constantly being on the losing end in the NPL.

The Sharks won from the Terra Nova Tigers — resoundingly—25-6.

This is, however, the second win of their short history.

Oceana defeated the Half Moon Bay Cougars six weeks ago 14-0 in a pre-season match.

The Tigers went scoreless against the resolute Sharks for three quarters and a little better.

The only TN tally was marked up late in the fourth quarter when Mike Blagrove, speedy 135 pound Tiger quarterback, snagged a six-yard pass from big (6' 3"—180 pounds) Marty Coil.

Oceana All the Way

The Sharks toted up a new score every quarter except in the third and then made up for that by scoring twice in the fourth.

Halfback Tom Summy broke the ice for the Sharks by making the initial TD during the first period with a four-yard drive over the line.

Shark kicker Gates made the PAT a good one.

Oceana's Steve McCaughey plunged over from the two yard line in the second period for the 13 mark on the scoreboard just before the half gun sounded.

Shark Steve Cavallero ran the third TD across on a five-yard romp and Rod McDonald took over the fourth and final.

Jeff goes down to El Camino 13-0

Jefferson maintained its losing streak Friday by going down before the El Camino Colts 13-0.

El Camino now ranks second in the NPL after South City's loss to Westmoor Friday night.

Jefferson is fourth.

The Colts will travel to Westmoor this week for a deciding and final league game.

An upset over the favored Rams would put El Camino into a three-way tie for the Northern League Championship.

Jeff's Defense

In spite of a lop-sided score, the Indians played their best defensive game of the season during last Friday's second half, said Joe McGrath, the Indians' shrewd mentor after the contest.

The Redskins held the El Camino squad scoreless for both final quarters.

McGrath picked out Ed Larios as the most valuable player of the day.

"He was good on defense and consistent on offense," commented McGrath.

Good Passing

Larios, who has been tabbed as one of the best pass receivers in the Northern Peninsula League took in five tosses during the game to account for 83 yards of Indian advance.

Jefferson's Rich Cuadra and Don Fisicaro attempted 18 passes together and completed 7 to Larios, Jessie Bulatao and Wayne White.

The Indians' passing attack rendered 116 yards against 63 for the Colts.

Colts' First Half

After losing the ball on downs in the opening minutes of play, the Colts took over the pigskin about halfway through the first period and made the most of the opportunity to run up seven points.

The El Camino bunch used a recovered fumble on the Jeff 35 to go for the score.

Quarterback Mark Avelar found Colt end Allan Schluep at the end of a 29 yard pass to draw first Indian blood.

El Camino's kicker Bruce Castellano booted one cleanly between the uprights for the PAT.

Another Fumble

Another Indian fumble in the second quarter paved the way for the Colts final score of the game.

This has happened to Jefferson before.

Sam Grandstaff of the Colts laid hands on a bouncing Indian ball on Jeff's 38 yard line during the second segment and galloped into the end zone.

Castellano's kick failed to clear.

Jeff Passes

The teamwork of Ed Larios and Don Fisicaro almost paid off in the second quarter when Fisicaro nailed Larios with two passes of 42 yards and 12 yards.

Ground plays with no gain and penalties cost the Indians the ball and the scoring opportunity fled, never to come again.

FINISH LINE—Milo Torres of Westmoor crossed the finish line ninth in Thursday's all-league cross-country meet on the Westmoor course. Torres ran the 1.95 miles in 10:05 with Terra Nova's Cooper (in background) one second behind for a 10:06 finish.

Westmoor basketball champions

By Bob Bishop

Coaches Tony Giammona and Byron Van Alstyne have brought two more basketball championships to Westmoor.

Van Alstyne's 10's went undefeated this year with a record of 10 and 0, winning against El Camino 41-16, Thursday.

The 20's with a season's record of 9-1 lost only to Jeff, who also lost one to Westmoor.

In the last games, the Ram 10's defeated the Oceana cagers 23-14, Jefferson 32-20, and the Warriors of South City 29-15.

Top men in these games as well as for the whole year were Ron Smith, Dan Nolan, and Guy Aronson.

While these did most of the team's rebounding they were also the team's three highest scorers.

Dan Nolan, who is an almost sure candidate for all-league honors, was high for the year with 115 points.

Two freshmen starters, Guy Aronson and Ron Smith, scored 95 and 44 points respectively.

Two guards who moved the ball around well for the 10's were Mike Giovanetti and Joel Wineberg.

Giammona's 20's won three of their last four games by defeating Oceana 48-23, South City 35-25, El Camino 56-29.

They lost to the Jeff Indians by 41-32.

High point man for the year was senior Bob Rubin with 91.

Bob hustled not only on offense but on defense too.

Next scorer was junior Roger Foss with 80.

Roger was one of the best guards in the league.

Third in scoring was junior Steve Sunseri with 70.

Steve was one of the league's best rebounders.

With 65 points was the big man and center Tim Corcoran.

Tim was probably the league's tallest man and best rebounder.

Sophomore Ken Liss followed with 58 points.

Bob Green and Dan McGowan, added to the first five, gave depth and a well-balanced attack to the team.

Colma Rec Soccer leagues in action

The Colma Recreation 5th and 6th Grade Soccer League when the Red Rammers led by came to an end last Wednesday Capt. Ray Montalbano defeated Larry Cassidy's Colma Seals 5-1 for the league championship.

After the game, Fred Balletto was selected as the league's most outstanding player.

Fred is a Colma 6th grader who has shown superb athletic ability along with fine sportsmanship.

The 5th and 6th graders will resume action next week when they compete in a basketball league.

They will be given one week of instruction prior to league play.

7th and 8th Grade

The start of the Colma Recreation Soccer League for 7th and 8th graders started last week when 70 boys turned out for the sport.

The coaches anticipate between 80-100 boys for the total turnout.

The boys were given fundamental rules and some of the basic skills used in soccer.

This will continue for approximately 6-7 days ending each day with a scrimmage game.

Teams will be chosen by team captains and league play should begin in 1½ weeks.

Edison host to all-star baseball

Recently Thomas Edison upper grades were treated to the thrills and enjoyment of the 2nd Annual All-Star Softball Game.

Playing on the Faculty-Administration team were such old timers as: Superintendent Richard Foster, Vin Straton, Jack Danielson, Jack Hanly, Lowell Jennings, Dan Sagner, Ed Jose, Dennis Huajardo (as announcer and umpire), Dorothy Hergert, Georgina Nyhan, and Anne Katsaros.

Line up for the young stars war; Edison's principal, John Belforte; Bruce Russell; Martin Conn; Dave Goldman; Tom Wright; Steve Petillo; Steve Levin Ray Pellegrini; Billy Sherbert; Dave Stillwell; Doug Casentini and Anthony La Rocca.

Good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the game; spirits ran high as the old timers went to their defeat by a score of 7 to 2.

CSM looks for soccer conquest

Intending to play them "one at a time," Colloge of San Mateo soccer coach Marty Krum can't help but be anxious about the Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer conference (JC division) finale on Nov. 23.

Thic contest should determine the league crown and the California JC title since this is the only area where junior colleges play soccer in the Golden State.

"San Mateo and City College of San Francisco have proved themselves the class of the league during the first round of play," said Krum.

The Nov. 23 meeting of these two schools on the Hillsdale high school field shapes up now as the league title decider, he said.

The Rams edged the Mateans, 6-4, in their first round meeting in San Francisco.

The black mission variety of figs was introduced to California by the padres who brought them from Mexico.

Soccer clinic at Franklin

Benjamin Franklin Recreation Dept. will sponsor its second annual soccer clinic Nov. 16 at the Benjamin Franklin School.

The clinic will be headed by Al Bettucchi, South San Francisco High School Soccer Coach and Ernie Feibusch of the San Francisco Jr. Soccer Boosters Club.

Members of the SSF A.C. Soccer Club, including Ray Finale and Jack Martinez, will join the clinic.

The clinic will start at 10 a.m. and run till noon.

Soccer skills and fundamentals will be stressed for the first hour, then the youngsters will have an opportunity to put what they have learned into actual practice with full scale games.

The entire group is looking to a large turnout of youngsters interested in this fast rising sport in the Bay Area.

CSM seeks more track victories

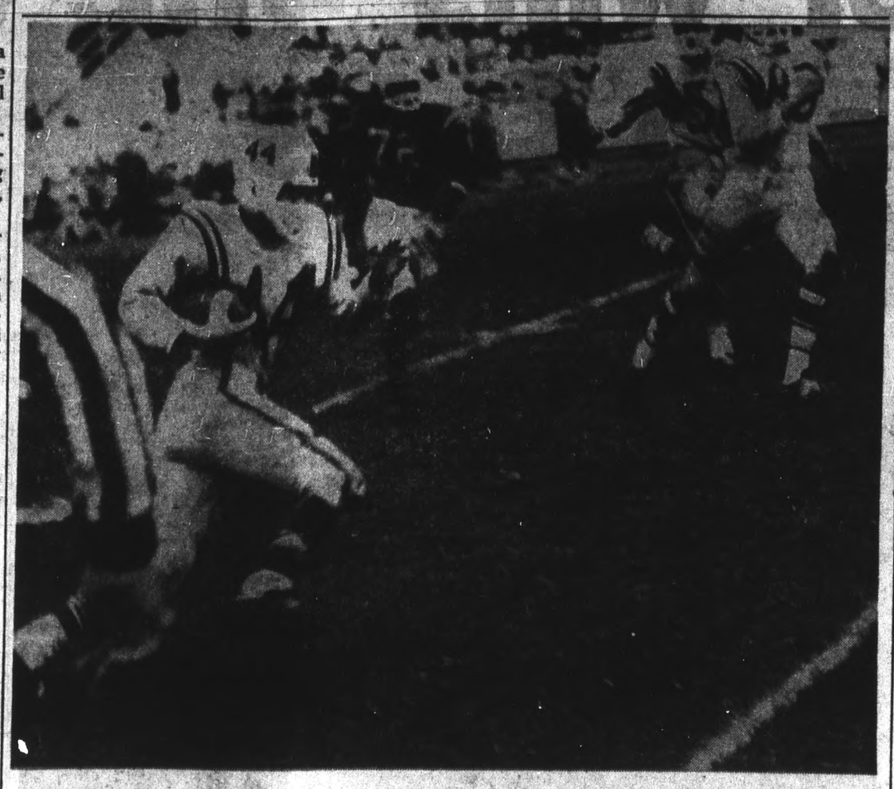
A heavily favored College of San Mateo cross-country team seeks further laurels in the Northern California meet at Fresno, Saturday.

The Bulldogs, who broke an 18 meet San Jose City College win streak to take the Golden Gate Conference title Nov. 1, now boasts 16 straight JC dual meet victories over two seasons.

A title-deciding loss to San Jose at the outset of last year was the last Mateon setback.

The first recorded bullfight took place in Crete about 3000 BC and the bull fighter was a woman.

WHERE TO DINE and DANCE AND HAVE FUN



Mahoney is named 'Player of Week'

Dave Mahoney, fullback for Westmoor High School has been named KGO-TV's "TV Prep Player of the Week" by four metropolitan newspaper prep sportswriters.

The honor follows Westmooor's 35-6 victory over Jefferson High School in a Channel 7 "High School Football" telecast Nov. 2.

Mahoney, a senior, shone on offense for the Rams as he carried the ball six times for a total of 68 yards, scored two touchdowns and kicked three conversions.

His selection was made by sportswriters Bob Sprenger, San Francisco Examiner; Al Corona, San Francisco News-Call Bulletin; Al Moss, San Francisco Chronicle and Ron Giblin, Oakland Tribune.

KGO-TV's "TV Prep Player of the Week" trophy is presented to the outstanding player of each of Channel 7's 10 "High School Football" telecasts in the 1963 season.

The award is made to the players at special school assemblies.

IN THE CLEAR—El Camino's Reinig has a clear field against Jefferson during the second half of the Jefferson-El Camino game Friday. Ken Baker, No. 72 in the dark Indian jersey, comes in for the tackle. Reinig will see action against the Westmoor Rams this Friday in a league deciding game. Colt coach Bob Sexton looks for a win against the Rams. "We'll take them," says Sexton. El Camino won against the Indians by 13-0. However, all the points were made in the first half.

Rams' soph-frosh remain unbeaten

Karl Fleischauer's three touchdown jaunts paced Westmoor's unbeaten frosh-soph gridders to a stunning 28-6 victory over powerful South San Francisco, setting the stage for a showdown with likewise unbeaten El Camino for the N.P.L. crown.

Quarterback John Heick decided that the excellent offensive line blocking of Alex Mattson, Jeff Thomas, Reg Baumgardner, Dennis James, Rich Laherty, Mitch Quistgaard, Hal Bobrow, called for power plays off tackle.

Heick pitched to Dave Dotur, Paul Frates, and Karl Fleishauer.

Defensively, Westmoor held South City to one first down.

The DeBernardi twins, Larry Baker, Jerry Deschler in a hard charging line utilizing gang tackling were largely responsible for this.

Gaining sweet revenge for a hairline 6-0 defeat to this same South City team in a practice game several weeks ago, Westmoor inflicted its very first defeat to the Warriors in Ram frosh-soph history.

Coach Bob Lotti, who was carried off the field by his victorious boys, said the whole group played good, hard-nosed football, and credited the win to an excellent team effort .

The Rams, who crushed Jefferson by 25-13 a week earlier, raised their league record to 4-0 and have enjoyed one of their greatest football seasons.

Proving that brains and brawn give a winning combination, Coach Lotti pointed out that 70% of the first stringers are honor roll students.

From A Feminine Viewpoint . . .

By Mona Baker

The YWCA goes around the world with centers in practically every country. Certainly with an international feeling was last week's fashion-luncheon in honor of YWCA World Fellowship week. The flags of all nations lined the ramp while smaller flags served as centerpieces at each table at the Friar Room, a most elegant location for a luncheon.

Enthusiastic applause and "oh's and ah's" greeted the lovely models who showed fashions from Cable Car casuals all the way from simple casual wear to dramatic holiday fashions.

Practically stopping the show was Glenda Morgan in a brilliant shocking pink Lilli Ann suit with matching pink fox fur collar. Betty Elliot was smartly casual in an orange check skirt of botany wool topped by matching cardigan and sweater. Winter white in a botany wool suit was modeled by Ginger Straight. Like a touch of spring was Lynette Erlach in a soft lilac wool by Loret of California. Certainly with the look of the holidays ahead was Nellie Hamilton's green velvet skirt and matching top. Another show stopper was Mary Jane Lutz quite dramatic in exotic black vest and pants with his chiffon blouse. A fashion favorite for the fall season, a dramatic fake leopard coat, was shown by Gail Waggstrom. With the sparkle of a Christmas tree was Marcia McGuirk in a long high fashion evening skirt and matching shell in a beautiful blue highlighted by a silver thread.

Norma Washford was fashion show director. Doris Cox and June St. Peters were hostesses.

A busy worker in every community in which she has lived is our community leader this week. Although a Daly City resident for only three years, she has devoted many volunteer hours to organizations. Particularly interested in the Mothers March of Dimes, this year she is Daly City chairman. She has also served for two years on the executive board of the National Foundation of San Mateo County. Active in St. Martin's Episcopal Church she has been two years on the Altar Guild and is in charge of Laguna Honda volunteers. She is also chairman of the donut drive.

Another organization to which she has devoted time is the Westlake Chapter of the League of Women Voters. While her family was growing up she was active in PTA and Girl Scouts.

We salute Jo Berry as our community leader of the week. Residents of Westlake, Jo and husband, Edward, live at 56 Parkwood Dr. They have two married children, David and Jo Ellen, and four grandchildren.

Notice the heater?
Give up? It's an electric heater and it's in the baseboard. You can hardly see it, but you sure can feel its warmth. Silent, even heat covers the room. What's more, this is only one kind of electric heater. There are wall insert models, floor insert models, and 240 volt portable models. And each has a room control. Ideal to warm a chilly room, or a new room you've added on. Ask an electrical contractor for a free estimate.

WHAT'S DOING
T. P. Coyne, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

HI!
I'm Susie McQueen, Order Typist in your Telephone Company Business Office. My husband, Dave and I live in Daly City and love it.
I have just completed typing an order for new service. One of your Service Representatives took the order and sent it to our Order Production Department. The order was checked carefully before and after typing to be sure the listing and service would be exactly as our customer requested. After clearing the order, the tape was sent to our Plant Department where the order will be filled. When completed, the Plant Department will send us a completed order card and it will be filed at the Service Representatives desk.

While it didn't happen here, a mystery of phones ringing without callers recently was unravelled. Seems that a bull loved to scratch his back on the guy wire of a telephone pole in his pasture. Each time, the friction caused all the telephones on the rural line to ring.
Everyone was happy when telephone men moved the pole to the other side of the fence. Everyone, that is, except the bull.

Planning a program for your group or club? We at your telephone business office will be glad to supply free films and arrange interesting lectures and demonstrations.

Here's a problem that calls for some backyard arithmetic. Let's say Mrs. Smith's telephone is in her living room—24 feet from the kitchen. She gets at least three phone calls a day when she's in the kitchen. This means that she walks 48 feet, back and forth, to answer the phone each time. That's 144 feet of walking a day, 52,560 feet a year. Now if Mrs. Smith's average step is 24 inches in length how many extra steps does she make a year?
Any way you figure it, the best solution is a kitchen wallphone. It's one addition that lets you subtract steps.

YWCA show is success

Mrs. Robert Washford, fashion show chairman, reports great success with our first show of the season. Miss Lucy Schulte, Executive Director of the San Francisco YWCA, of which San Mateo is a branch, was an honored guest, as was Mrs. Arthur Hemphill, President of the Board of Directors for San Francisco, and Mrs. Donald Nelson, Director of Public Relations.

In an inspiring talk on World Fellowship, Mrs. Edward Raymond pointed out that this event is celebrated every November by YWCAs throughout the world. It serves to remind members in 71 different nations of the YWCA's international and non-denominational purpose — friendship and service to all.

We want to thank the Westlake Merchants Association for their time, advertising and donations of material and door-prizes which made our show a tremendous success. We hope all who attended were as pleased as we were with the beautiful Friar Boora, the delicious lunch, the wonderful clothes from Cable Car Casuols and the very lovely models who showed them so well.

December 10 is the date for our Christmas show. Gifts for everyone in the family will be shown . . . there will be Christmas music . . . a film on Israel and the Holy Land and lots of door prizes and refreshments.

Reading with children program in Pacifica

Would you like to introduce your children to the wonderful world of books, but don't quite know how to compete with the television set?

Mary Poarch, our very well known county librarian, will provide helpful hints on the art of storytelling at a meeting co-sponsored by the Pacifica Y-Wives and the Friends of the Library. The program will be held at Oddstad Park Clubhouse Tuesday, November 19 from 10 'til noon. In addition to her talk "Reading With Children," Miss Poarch will answer questions on reading to, and for children.

There will also be a display of suitable books for children of all ages and suggested gift books for the coming holiday season.

Everyone is invited to attend this free meeting. You do not have to be a member of the Y. Nursery facilities will be available for a 50 cent fee.

We're Anxious To Hear From Our Coastside Friends: Would you like our much-talked about fast-growing creative play program for children three to five? It is an experience for the only child, the child who wishes to be in school with older brothers and sisters, and for the shy, the exceptional, the extroverted or introverted. This is not a nursery, but a truly rewarding pre-school group orientation experience. What adult classes appeal? What sort of program would be informative, inspiring, rewarding to you? Please contact the YWCA PL 6-7370 and let us know what we can do for you.

Reservations Chairman Mrs. Robert Collins, and her Co-Chairman, Mrs. Gregory Gregaru, 904 Newman Dr., South San Francisco, report that many of the tables are already reserved—and no wonder—with Mrs. Harry Wharton doing the centerpieces in white and gold, and with Mrs. Gene Steers and Mrs. Jack Chalabba doing the art work, the settings should be perfect for the holiday fashions.

In keeping with the holiday spirit, General Chairman Mrs. Mark Kriletich and her Co-Chairman, Mrs. William Tuck, have promised a gift for everyone in attendance—a bottle of Nattie Rosenstine perfume from New York. Table favors will be arranged by Mrs. Bernard Eichhorn.

Mrs. George Engler has lined up 12 ladies, three of whom are teenagers, to model the beautiful fashions being presented by H. Leibes. The models are: Mrs. Joseph Cutrufelli, Mrs. George Engler, Mrs. Charles Grech, Mrs. Hector Illescas, Mrs. Hazel Leach, Mrs. Richard Lynch, Mrs. Warren Olsen, Mrs. Walter Schumacher, Mrs. Thomas Welch, Miss Carol d'Aquisto, Miss Lenore Cutrufelli, and Miss Jane Wright.

The ladies will promenade to the music of Ernie Oreste, and their cosmetics will be under the supervision of Mrs. Vincent Wogman, using Edith Rehnborg Cosmetics.

Community helps solve mental health problems

By Mrs. Roland Wick

Mental health services will be established in North San Mateo county by January 1, 1964. This is the seventh in a series of articles examining the community mental health needs in North County.

One fact is revealed more and more clearly through conversations with individuals who play varied and prominent roles in the community life in North San Mateo county and Daly City. The mental health of a community lies in the hands of many people.

There are many strengths already present. There are many that the people of a community need to grow more familiar with—to learn to use better.

This feeling is strongly voiced by Mr. John Piotti, supervising probation officer of the Northern Unit of the San Mateo county probation office, which includes Daly City, Colma, Pacifica, Brisbane, South San Francisco.

He states, "Very often a community becomes dependent on agencies to solve their problems. An agency's major role should be to give direction and support community needs. We need to get the responsibility back to the area where it belongs."

These are strong words — words not to be taken lightly.

Using the probation department as a prime example, Mr. Piotti explains, "We are, in all reality, an arm of the law. When a youngster comes to us, he has become a matter of record. How often we wish steps could have been taken earlier —in the home, through the school, the local police, the church, all the positive things that exist in a community."

He also uses the local police department to cite an existing community strength. "With a well trained, adequately staffed force, they can work effectively to help solve problems close to home." Mr. Piotti feels that the Daly City police are often successful in doing this.

Jose Bernal, who has worked as a probation officer in the Pacifica and Westlake area for three years, spoke of another community strength which is often not used to its fullest value. This is the church.

"Too frequently we forget what an excellent source of help there is here," he stated. "Not only does the pastor provide counselling. Often the church can help find a badly needed foster home. They can assist in finding clothing for a family, maybe the necessary adequate school clothes for the children. This is a very real need we sometimes forget exists. A youngster may begin to find his much needed sense of 'identity' through a church group activity."

Is there a "typical" case to reveal the emotional problems seen in children who come to the attention of the probation department? Is there a general statement that can be made about what causes delinquency in a community?

The answer to such questions is an emphatic "No," from both Bernal and Piotti.

Looking over carefully prepared study charts of the entire San Mateo county, Mr. Piotti says there is no significant difference in the rate of delinquency between high income and high education groups and those of lower income and lower education. There may be a difference, however, in the kinds of problems that exist.

What are some general statements these men do make regarding such a community problem as delinquency?

According to Mr. Bernal, the amount of income does make a difference in the causes and kinds of delinquency.

"When a boy from a family with very little money steals a radio, he does it because he feels it's the only way he'll ever have one. His reason is clear. When a boy from a middle class family steals, it is seldom out of financial need. The reasons are different, and more complex."

The standard of living in some areas of Daly City, as in other growing communities, makes it necessary for both parents to work to financially "measure up." This presents certain kinds of problems.

He feels the growing need for mental health services to help meet the increasing complexities of the middle class communities.

Mr. Piotti, in looking at the family as a primary community strength, observes, "Being a father and a mother is just a biological fact. What of being a parent? We find ourselves with too many fathers and mothers and not enough parents."

And what of the youngsters themselves? "We give so much attention and care to the small percentage of children who are actually in trouble. Maybe we really need to take a deeper look at the ones not in trouble. Maybe here is where we will find what makes the difference in learning to live successfully in this competitive society."

In summing up his view of community strengths and community needs, Mr. Piotti sees it this way. "We need an 'awareness' of what is expected from the community."

A challenge, this seems to us, for serious community self-evaluation.

Brownies view Presidio parade

Brownie Troop 43 visited the Presidio Oct. 30 and watched a parade for men that were retiring the month of October.

The outing was attended by: Mary Sarah Dollar, Betty Sue Randall, Diane Slee, Patricia Kavanaugh, Susan Gonaj, Laura Boura Bourbon, Mary Slosser, Terri Alba, Susan epson, Pam Proctor, Karen Fleischer, Laura Biagini, Kim Pappas, Colleen Nolan, Fleicita Bensh, Mary Matsunaga, Emilie Baroana, and Debbie Cristofani. The leader Mrs. Jean Proctor and her assistants, Mrs. Helen Jepson and Mrs. Grace Matsunaga.

Another of their activities during the past weeks, was investiture ceremonies for five new girls, Patty Kavanaugh, Dione Slet, Susan Goraj, Laura Bourbon, and Mary Slosser. The mothers of the five girls attended the proceedings along with the girls that received investiture last year. Ten of these girls received their year pins. Two of the girls, Mary Sarah Dollar and Betty Sue Randall will receive their pins later in the year. These are given after they have been in the Brownies one year.

The girls are also busy selling Brownie Scout calendars. This is a good project for them, as the money they make from the sales will be added to their treasury for more activities of the coming year.

Brownie Troop No. 43 will hold their regular meetings on each Monday afternoon at Garden Village School. Scouting is a wonderful part of their lives and they enjoy every minute of it.

Oceana has busy PTA

A successful Oceana PTA auction recently provided $300 in scholarships for the school, according to the auction committee.

The money will be given to the school by the group at a later date.

A vote of thanks was offered to all the people who donated goods to the affair and to those who came to buy.

Blevins to Speak

Oceana coach Robert Blevins will tell the Oceana PTA about "A Golden Opportunity to Understand School Athletics" at the group's Nov. 14 meeting.

Blevins will be joined by Oceana's Cheer Leaders and Pom Pom Girls as guests.

The meeting will be held in the school gym beginning at 8 p.m.

Membership Drive

Oceana PTA's membership contest is still on, says Membership Chairman Helen Girton.

Mrs. Girton reminded parents that the contest will continue until the end of the next week's meeting.

She suggested that interested parents send their money to the school or come to the next meeting to join.

JAYWALKERS

Traffic accidents took the lives of 2,780 jaywalkers in the United States last year.

Vista Mar School News

Mrs. Helen Cordell, art consultant for the district is appreciated for her help to teachers in planning art projects. At Vista Mar, Mr. Charles White's 5th and 6th grades, Mrs. Jeane Oberlander's 4th and 5th grades, and Miss Leota Johnson's sixth grade, under the direction of Miss Cordell have been waterpainting using a method called caligraphy.

The theme of the paintings have been, "Crowds of People" with a result of people being shown at fairs, on playgrounds and in city streets. The highlight of caligraphy involves using black to outline figures and background. This is preceded by a light sketch of figures, background, and blocking in of picture with free strokes of waterpaint.

Were you to enter the Vista Mar office you would be able to see some of the fine results of this project.

Citizens of the Month

The first "Citizens of the Month" received their awards at Vista Mar in an assembly program. Each month to further social responsibility and instill concepts of citizenship a boy and girl are elected in each room as "Citizen of the Month." Following are the elected students: 1st grade — Steve DeVincenzi, Janet Behlow, Michael Malekos, Susan Paganelli; 2nd grade — Howie Kennedy; 3rd grade — Ronald Guisti, Jill Perkins, Mike Mountanos, Barbara Madrid; 4th grade — Raymond Taylor, Anne Gunthrop, Brad Kearns, Cindy Barringer, 5th grade — Michael Baker, Sharon Panelli, Robert Bosetti, Sylvia Bates; 6th grade — Kevin Donovan, Kristy Lucas, Paul Reynolds, Kathy Klemens.

Physical Exercises

"Go you chicken fat, go" is a familiar sound around Vista Mar these days. Many classes, both primary and elementary, have been using a physical fitness record, "Chicken Fat," recorded by Robert Preston.

The music and lyrice are by Meredith Wilson and are as full of bounce and vigor as his "Music Man."

Through music, Robert Preston leads the group through a series of exercises including toe touch, push-ups, sit-ups, the pogo spring and jumping jacks. Both children and teachers have found the record "fun way" to do exercises.

Book Drama

Mrs. Ida Dubois's fifth grade class book reports have been especially interesting. The members of the class have picked a favorite scene from this book and dramatized it for the group. This means of presentation was to motivate the particular books for other members of the class.

As a form of introduction, each child made a book cover showing a scene from his book giving the author and title. Some especially effective presentations have been done by George Lex of "Mystery of Echo Lake," Sylvia Bates and Connie Collis, "A Cap for Cathy" and Robert Indergadn of "North Folk."

Safeway Honors Woman

Mrs. Grace Anders, of Daly City, was recently honored by Safeway Stores, Incoporated, recently for outstanding service and courtesy to customers.

Mrs. Anders, employed with the food firm since 1960, was born in Marion, Ohio and educated in Ypsilanti, Michigan. She and her husband, Robert, reside at 4 Cerro Drive, Daly City. Mrs. Anders enjoys interior decorating, gardening and working in the home. She is a Food Clerk at the Market and Duboce streets store.

Balboa PTA dinner, meet Thursday

Balboa High School PTA will serve a dinner in the cafeteria from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. on their regular meeting night, Thursday, November 14. All members and friends are welcome. Cost of dinner will be $1.00 for adults and 60 cents for children under 12. Menu will consist of chicken pie with mixed green salad, roll and butter, cake and coffee.

There will be a Christmas bazaar table with gifts and decorations for sale. The theme for the night's program will be "Focus on Physical Fitness." Both boy's and girl's Physical Education departments will be featured. Wrestling and gymnastics by boys of Mr. Duvall, Mr. Mitchel and Mr. Kenna's classes. Fencing, boys and girls, Mr. Benefiel class. Dance, girls of Mrs. Jimenez class.

Farragut PTA Christmas sale

The Farragut P.T.A. will hold their Christmas sale on Wed. November 20, 1963 at 11:00 a.m. in the school auditorium.

Plan to attend the sale and have luncheon with your children. Hot dogs, with all the trimmings will be on sale.

Do your Christmas shopping early, lots of things to choose from — many hand made. Baked goods will also be on sale. Horticultural corner too.

New math at Colma

An experimental project of the "New Math" program is being carried on at Colma K-6 School. Colma K-6 is the only school in the Jefferson Elementary School District in which all first and second grade classes are participating in the Greater Cleveland Math Plan.

Colma K-6 School has chosen as its yearly project the development of arithmetic using this math series.

To facilitate this development, a workshop was held on Nov. 5 and 6 to devise the materials needed in teaching by this method. The workshop involved the efforts of Mrs. M. Yates, Curriculum Consultant for the primary grade in the district. Also helpful in planning and carrying on the workshop were Mr. E. Zenovich, principal of Colma K-6 School; Mrs. C. Klaisner and Mrs. P. Hutchinson, first grade teachers who have been using the Cleveland Math Plan for the second year.

At the workshop, all the teachers from Colma K-6 made materials and visual aids which will be helpful in the development of arithmetic concepts in their classrooms this year.

Local Jewelers 'Secret' pearl shown on TV

Rene (Bill) Manzini, manager of Kay Jewelers' Westlake store displayed his "secret"—the world's largest natural pearl, 14 pounds, 1 ounce, on the Garry Moore TV show "I've Got a Secret," last Monday night.

Manzini flew it east under armed guard and didn't leave it out of his sight until he had it back in a local bank vault.

The pearl, the size of a football, belongs ot Manzini and Wilburn Cobb, a law enforement officer.

Cobb obtained it in the Philippines in 1938. While visiting a Mohammedan village, a pearl diving native drowned when his arm caught in a giant clam. Inside the calm was the record pearl.

Cubb was able to save the life of a neighboring chief's son through the use of modern drugs he carried with him, and in gratitude, the chief of the tribe that owned the pearl made it a gift to him.

Today's education; a new face of math

By SHERRY ROSEN

(Editor's note: This article, by a Westmoor High School journalism student, is a revealing description of important changes taking place in our educational system and the subjects it teaches. Changes to create new tools for a new world.)

Parents who have been puzzling over Johnny's unusual math homework assingments these nights need not fear for their sanity, for indeed Johnny is learning a "new math routine."

Living up to its new status as a major field of study, mathematics has undergone a change of emphasis from "how" to "why."

As Mr. Benjamin Snyder, head of the Westmoor High math department explains it, math as a "systematic abstract study" has changed radically in structure.

Instead of asking students to memorize rules and theorems, the books now encourage the students to figure out why such a rule is true.

New Base

While most parents for the last 300 years have been nurtured on the "base 10" number system using ten digits, their children are now being taught to count with such newly-developed systems as the "base 2" system, which recognizes only two digits.

Thus the new math books present the fundamental principles and truths which are common to all number systems.

Math Study Group

Playing a significant role in this revolution of numbers is the School Mathematics Study Group (S.M.S.G.).

Founded with a $4 million grant from the government to the National Science Foundation, this group has introduced a series of textbooks teaching modern math concepts.

Headed by Edward J. Beagle, the committee has begun a long-range program to make people more competent in the field of mathematics.

New Ideas

Although this new concept is largely based on a change in structure, there have also been many new ideas introduced in math in recent years.

Set theory, statistical inference and probability, extensive graphing, and systems of numeration are all recently-developed aspects.

Another major new field embraces an entirely new world of measurement.

New Jobs

Math has become a tremendously important field in terms of job opportunities as well as academic theory.

Influenced greatly by automation, it has gained rapidly in importance in the fields of industry, business production, computer corporations, and even sociology; while math as the "language of science" remains as a vital part of scientific research.

All of this has happened so rapidly that there has been a serious shortage of math majors who are capable of handling these new jobs competently.

Until recently, high school graduates were advised against entering the field on the grounds that teaching was the only possible job opportunity available to mathematicians.

Now the math graduate finds that he has a wide variety of attractive and lucrative job opportunities, and the sudden lack of math majors who are interested in teaching credentials instead of the corporation life clearly illustrates this turn of events.

At Westmoor

Keeping pace with the new discoveries, the math department at Westmoor is also undergoing great change.

All new texts are being used this year, and the department will continue to introduce books that teach the "new math."

WHS teachers have spent hours reviewing the new material, and each one has gone back to school within the past five years to learn the new concepts.

They are all most enthusiastic about the new line of study, although they realize that these ideas will not be easy for students who have been schooled on traditional math to grasp immediately.

The Future

What of the future? Next year it will be mandatory for elementary schools to teach the "new math," and in a few years all high school freshmen will have had the background necessary for further study in the new concepts.

Math has become a vitally important field in the modern world of organization and automation, and to the future college graduate in mathematics one can only say, "Yours is the world and everything that's in it . . ."
